

AGIS, HR Dimensions Announce Joint Venture

HR Dimensions to Offer Employer-Sponsored Group Medical Plans and Consultancy

INDIANAPOLIS, March 3, 2009 — HR Dimensions, LLC, the largest human resources consulting firm in Indiana, has entered into a joint venture with AGIS, a full-service insurance agency with an office in Indianapolis. The announcement was made jointly by HR Dimensions President Mark McNulty and Dave Norris, president of the Indianapolis office of AGIS.

Under terms of the joint venture, HR Dimensions will now offer employee benefits plan design and employer-sponsored health insurance products to its roster of human resources consulting services that includes talent management, strategy and HR services and outsourcing. HR Dimensions will leverage the AGIS service model and sophisticated support infrastructure to offer its clients group medical, dental, vision and other benefit plans, as well as access to AGIS's enrollment, eligibility, and claims resolution support resources.

"HR Dimensions is now in the benefits business," McNulty said. "We have long thought that employee benefits was a natural extension of the HR Dimensions service model. Partnering with AGIS in this way, we can now confidently state that we have the benefits expertise, the staff, the group insurance experience, and the resources to serve and exceed the service expectations of employers throughout Indiana, as well as their employees."

AGIS's commitment to the customer experience is what drew HR Dimensions to the partnership, McNulty said. Norris added, "The support system we have in place, whether serving the employer or its employees, has earned high regard in this market. Through this joint venture, HR Dimensions now makes that high-touch, high-tech service model available to its clients throughout the state, instantly."

AGIS brings more than 30 years experience in the employee benefits arena to the partnership, representing hundreds of employers in the Midwest and the Southeast.

Existing and future HR Dimensions clients will continue to work directly with their HR Dimensions consultant, but with AGIS serving as a seamless extension of its support staff, with expertise specific to group benefits plan design, implementation and ongoing service.

Founded in 1996, HR Dimensions (www.hrdimensions.com) is the largest human resources consulting firm in the state of Indiana, specializing in talent management including executive search, career transition, leadership development and training, executive coaching, compensation and performance management.

Founded in 1978, AGIS is a full-service insurance agency with offices in three states. The company provides complete employee benefit programs, funding arrangements and services, including plan design, benefit analysis, Section 125 plans, employee communication and enrollment, renewal preparation, COBRA services, claims and administrative assistance, and legislative updates, as well as products and services related to property/casualty insurance. In addition to Indianapolis, AGIS has offices in Orlando, Tampa Bay, Jacksonville, Fla., and Detroit. For more information, please visit www.agis-inc.com.

#